VISION.

Sometimes in a crowded street I see The faces of those that love, and those that are loved;
And in the rush of traffic, The thundering sounds of the city, I pause.
Wondering about their loves—which are their lives.
I know them by their eyes and by their glances;
I know them in a way I may not name,
And I know those that have won and those that have lost In the eternal battle of the world.
But they that have lost have not always a sad countenance; Sometimes their lips smile,
As if with an old comprehension, And one might be deceived, save for trafic eyes—
The smiling, yet unsmiling eyes above the mouth.
Those eyes have read in the great Book of Love.
And they are changed, they are changed forever,
And those lips have kissed the pages of the book,
And they, too, are changed forever.
Only lips can lie—but eyes can never deceive.

And those that have won—not always do they smile.
Often they seem to be secretly weeping
As if with a joy too terrible to hear—Strange, strange are the countenances of those that love.
I know them all—brothers and sisters of Love;
I know them, and they know me.
I can tell by their eyes—Their eyes that follow me with knowledge,
With pity, with solemn understanding.

—Charles Hanson Towne.

THOUGHTS FOR THE DAY.

As my life today has been determined by the way I lived my yesterday so my tomorrow is being determined by the way I live my today.

Inactive Kidneys Cause Disease

"I shall not soon forget the benefits I derived from the use of Foley Kidney Pills."—AL. A.
Gardner, Forest Grove, Oregon.

Too much work and too little work seem to have about the same effect on persons past middle age. Proper action of the kidneys is necessary to good health. They act as a filter and remove from the blood poisonous waste matter which if permitted to remain in the system leads to many complications.

Many nervous, tired, run-down men and women suffer from pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells, bladder weakness, sore muscles and stiff joints and fail to realize that rheumatism, diabetes or even Bright's disease may result.

If you have cause to believe that your kidneys are weak, disordered or inactive you should act immediately.
Foley Kidney Pills have been used by young, middle aged and old with complete satisfaction. They act quickly and surely and have given relief in cases of ten years' standing.

VISITORS FROM CHIPLEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watts of Chipley, Florida are visiting in the city this week.

WOMAN'S LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE FOR FLORIDA.

The following interesting document comes from Mrs. May M. Jennings, state chairman of the Woman's Florida Liberty Loan Committee:

Dear Co-Workers:
My appointment as Chairman Woman's Liberty Loan committee for Florida was just received on the 10th inst. from Mrs. W. G. McAfee, National Chairman, Washington.
Mrs. P. J. McGovern of Atlanta, as chairman 6th Federal Reserve District, having Florida in her jurisdiction.

The heads of the following state organizations have been asked to serve on the committee for Florida.
Mrs. William Hocker, Ocala, Chairman Woman's Committee Council National Defense.

Mrs. H. H. McCreary, Gainesville, President United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Telfair Stockton, Jacksonville, President Colonial Dames.

Miss Minnie E. Neal, Jacksonville, President Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Arthur Gilkes, Jacksonville, Regent Daughters of American Revolution.

Mrs. Frank Stranahan, Fort Lauderdale, President Equal Suffrage Association.

Miss Elsie P. Hoyt, Tampa, President Southern Association, Colleges for Women.

Mrs. Sarah A. Harris, Quincy, Grand Matron Order Eastern Star.

New York, Oct. 17.—This attractive gown of dark blue satin with the overdress of Georgette crepe should satisfy the school girl's desire for good taste and good style. Over the satin foundation is arranged a coat of cream colored lace, and the crepe falls over this at the back and front, parting at the sides to reveal the lace undraped. The dark crepe also finishes the sleeves and forms the soft sash.

The whole overdress of crepe is outlined with a narrow band of cerise beads, and the color effect is bright and youthful.

Mrs. C. C. Bagwell, St. Augustine, Gov. of International Federation Catholic Alumni.

Mrs. Hattie Bethel, Jacksonville, Grand Chief Pythian Sisters.

Miss Anna Davis, Orlando, President Florida Nurses Association.

Miss Ella Roraback, Jacksonville, National Society U. S. Daughters 1812.

Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, Tallahassee, President State Teachers' Association.

Mrs. W. S. Jennings, Jacksonville, President Florida Federation Woman's Club.

It is greatly desired that all woman's church and other organizations be enlisted in the work of selling this second issue of Liberty Bonds. The time allotted for the sale, Oct. 1st to Nov. 1st, is half gone and I am appointing you to serve as the local chairman for your organization and asking that you appoint a committee and inaugurate a whirlwind campaign, using the best plan and method possible to reach all women in your town and county co-operating with all women's organizations.

The local representative of each of the above mentioned organizations are appointed local chairmen so that the state may be covered as speedily as possible, is the short time remaining for the sale of the bonds. Will you not get in touch with them, dividing up the territory that there may be harmony of action and no overlapping or waste of effort? Where your local organizations have already joined in forming a Women's Committee Council of Defense, it is expected that you work through same.

The state has not been systematically organized for this bond sale and as the time now is all too short, I am using what seems to me the best means at hand, the ready made organizations.

All chairmen or presidents of women's local organizations are requested to report progress of sales to me each day, stating organization represented, that I in turn may make a daily report to Mrs. McGovern.
This will not conflict with reports to heads of state organizations.

You are especially urged to assist kitchens and see the reckless way we waste fat in various ways.

For instance, a great many of us cut all the fat off meat and throw it away. Most of us use a great deal more butter and lard than we need in fried foods. And all of us waste soap.

Today such extravagance will mean a serious condition of affairs. The world's supply of fat is short. Yet we can not get along without some fat in our diet. There is no substitute for it.

For this reason, so that the world's fat-supply can be made to reach everybody's needs, and because we are using more than is necessary for our needs, we are asked to cut down our fat consumption 375,000,000 tons this year.

We cannot possibly do this, if any of us lie back and say: "Oh, the little I could economize on fat won't make a difference."

It will make a difference. Each of us must do our share. If every person in America uses one third of an ounce less a day, or about two tea-spoonfuls of fat, or if it is butter, one less pat a day—the huge demand for fat by our Allies could be met.
Do not deprive your children of their usual amount of dairy butter on the table, however, as it has food values essential to their growth. Economize on butter by using less of it in cooking. Remember we must send the Allies three times as much butter as before the war.

Besides fats, we must economize on sugar. France, England, and Italy are depending largely on us for their supply of this product. Fortunately, we can easily meet this demand by a little personal economy, for as with fats, we use a great deal more sugar than is necessary. Today the usual American consumption per person is just double that of France.

If they can do with so much less, certainly we can do with a little less!

The easiest way to economize on sugar is by going without candy and sweet drinks, using less of it in our tea and coffee and on our cereals, learning to eat fruit without it, and by using more of dark syrups, honey and maple syrup.

Don't practice foolish economy, however, and scrimp the sugar in putting up fruits and jams, for these save butter next winter.

READ AND STUDY THE HOME CARD

Women in millions of American homes will read the message of the "Home Card" and will follow its suggestions. If enough millions do this the problem of feeding the allies and ourselves is solved, and the war won.
This is the belief of the United States Food Administration, who hope, during "Food Pledge Week" October 22 to November 3, to organize the American women into a volunteer food conservation army. The duties of these women, as stated by the Home Card, are merely to eat and serve less wheat, beef, pork, dairy products and sugar, and more of the other foods of which we have an abundance, and which cannot so readily be shipped to our allies.

SERVE BY SAVING IS ADVICE GOVT.

Editor's note: The articles appearing in this paper under the above caption are supplied by the Food Conservation Division of the Food Administration as a practical help to the American woman in "doing her bit."

We are The Greatest Fat-Wasters.
This is the truth. We women of America are the greatest fat-wasters in the world. This is a strong indictment, and let us hope by the end of the war we will no longer have to plead guilty to it.
